About Taralye

Taralye was established in 1968 by a group of concerned families who wanted their hearing impaired children to have the same opportunities and choices as their hearing peers. At Taralye we teach our children to listen and to speak, so that they may attend mainstream school, talk with their friends and participate fully in all that life has to offer.

Now you can be part of a team of incredible individuals fundraising together to raise tens of thousands of dollars for Taralye. Join us now for the opportunity of a lifetime!

What will my impact be?

If you met five-year-old Jacob today, you would never guess that he suffered profound hearing loss at the age of 15 months. After receiving cochlear implants at 17 months, Jacob's family began taking him to Taralye so he could benefit from intensive early intervention services.

Now, Jacob excels in his kindergarten classroom and can confidently speak and engage with the other children. Jacob's mum says, "It was a big decision for us to take the time to access Taralye's services in Melbourne, but it was worth it. Four years is nothing in the span of a lifetime, and now Jacob's opportunities for schooling as well as life beyond have opened up."

Trip Notes

The travel for this adventure will be operated by Flight Centre.

B=Breakfast L=Lunch D=Dinner

This trip combines the best sites of Peru, a visit to a local project in both Lima (Cochlea clinic) and Cusco (Peru's Challenge), plenty of time to acclimatise whilst exploring scenic Cusco and the Sacred Valley of the Incas, a challenging yet manageable trek through the stunning Lares valley, visiting local communities, hot-springs and several interesting Inca ruins on route and finally we catch the spectacular train down to Aguas Calientes for a full day of exploring the magnificent Machu Picchu – the 'Lost city of the Incas'. We return to Cusco for a final day of exploring, shopping and fine dining before heading back to Lima and our onward connection.

DAY 1: ARRIVE LIMA

On arrival at Lima Airport you will be transferred to your hotel in Miraflores. Dinner is provided in your hotel tonight. (D)

DAY 2: LIMA

Today you will be picked up by an English speaking guide and private vehicle to visit the Cochlea clinic in Miraflores. After this your guide and vehicle are available to take you shopping or to visit the coast / look round Lima. Coordinate with him for options. (B)

DAY 3: LIMA – CUSCO

An early morning transfer back to the airport to board the flight along the Andes to Cusco where you will be met by your Amazonas Explorer guide and transferred to our hotel in central Cusco. Today is for acclimatisation to the rarefied air of the Andes (3240m). Drink plenty of liquids and take it easy. After lunch in a typical local restaurant, in the afternoon we take a short walking tour of central Cusco. (B,L)

DAY 4: PERU'S CHALLENGE SCHOOL

Today we visit the Peru's challenge site, just outside Cusco and have for ourselves, a real firsthand experience of project work in Peru. We enjoy lunch with the project workers and some of its benefactors before returning to Cusco in the late afternoon. (B,L)

DAY 5: CUSCO AND PISAC SACRED VALLEY ACCLIMATISATION

An essential part of your trip is to spend a day acclimatizing whilst enjoying the amazing ruins, markets and scenery of Cusco and the Sacred Valley. This trip leaves Cusco early in the morning. Our first stop is the picturesque Andean village of Pisac. The village is famous for its Sunday, Tuesday and Thursday markets and superb artisan stalls throughout the week. Time can be spent shopping or for the more energetic visiting the extensive Inca ruins at the top of the hill. Old Pisac ruins have much to explore with a circular hike along a well-defined through Royal buildings, look-outs, terraces, tunnels and irrigation channels before returning on another good trail to the bus. We then head back to Cusco for a lovely walking (or vehicle) tour and a superb introduction into the Inca heritage of Peru. At 3650m this is also a perfect acclimatization hike for the Lares trek to come.

After a picnic lunch we head back to Cusco en-route we explore some of Cusco's outlying Inca sites. Ten kilometres out of Cusco is Tambo Machay, popularly called the Inca's Bath due to its finely preserved waterfalls, carefully diverted through fine stone channels. Also the site of Puca Pucara. This delightful ruin on a small prominence is believed not to be the 'red fort' its name suggests but a 'Tambo' – a rest house for travelling animals, goods and travellers.

With Cusco now in our sights we visit the fascinating Qenqo. This waca contains some of the finest examples of Inca carvings in-situ. The eroded limestone fissures have been artfully carved into zig-zag channels (from where Qenqo derives its name), pumas, condors, snakes and houses. Bountiful Mummy Niches in the caves, an amphitheatre and the central phallic column all add to the mystery of its multi-functional use.

Our final and most stunning ruin is the extensive Sacsayhuaman. Although the smaller stones of Sacsayhuaman were used to build modern day Cusco, the remaining stones are up to 8.5m high and weigh over 360 tones. The distinctive zig-zag ramparts that form are attributed to being Puma teeth, lightning and also fortification. This major centre obviously had many functions with storehouses, administration buildings, reservoir and play area. It was also site of a crucial battle between the Incas and the Spanish.

A downhill on old Inca road brings us to San Cristobal church built on top of Inca Manco Capac's Palace and a fantastic view point of Cusco. The final steps down the streets of San Blas bring us to the Plaza de Armas and the end of the tour. (B,L)

DAY 6: CUSCO – QUISUARANI

Departing Cusco early we descend into the Sacred Valley before, at Calca heading high into the Andes. In just under two hours we will leave the vehicles and start our acclimatization hike up an ancient Inca trail, through a narrow canyon where Inca burial tombs can still be seen. This is a perfect hike to allow clients to experience firsthand the affects of trekking at altitude. (depending how the group is feeling we have the option to continue walking or meet our bus further up the valley and transfer over) a 4200m to the small community of Quisuarani where we set up base camp for the night. (B,L,D) (approx. 8km walked today)

DAY 7: QUISUARANI – CUNCANI-HUACAHUASI

A beautiful day's hiking as we climb out of the Quisuarani valley, hopefully meeting en route some of the colourfully dressed locals. This whole area is famous for its weavings and at the various campsites we can barter for beautiful handmade textiles at a fraction of the price of what they would be at home or even in Cusco. Our trekking path borders the native tree reforestation project of ECOAN: this restored eco-system is home to several endemic birds. We descend past some spectacular waterfalls and crystal clear lakes to the small village of Cuncani, here we meet our support vehicle for lunch. The afternoon has many options either a short walk over the ridge to the village of Huacahuasi, a scenic hike down the river, road and an old Inca Trail to the Lares Hot-springs, where after a good soak in the "Banos del Inca" – The Incas's Baths – a selection of perfectly heated pools: our support vehicle can return to camp on Huacahuasi football pitch. Or finally if low on energy we could just drive to the hot-springs to recuperate in style. The valleys of Lares have many hidden treasures and are versatile enough to tailor the trek to weather and client's needs. (B,L,D) (approx. 18km walked today)

DAY 8: HUACAHUASI – PATACANCHA

Now fully acclimatized and rested we set off for our final challenge to climb over a 4100m pass and descend towards the sacred valley of the Incas – We take it real slow, stopping beside beautiful lakes and hope to arrive at the pass just before lunch for spectacular views of the snowy mount Veronica. Recently a pair of condors has settled in the valley and we hope to get a glimpse of these soaring above the mountain ridges. We then descend following an old mule trail to the village of Patacancha where we meet the support vehicle to take us to Huilloc where we camp on a local's field just outside the village. Huilloc is famous as being the town where many of the traditional porters for the Inca Trail come from: traditional dress is always worn and Quechua is spoken. This is our last chance to barter for more fine weavings. (B,L,D) (approx. 15km walked today)

DAY 9: HUILLOC – PUMAMARCA – OLLANTAYTAMBO - MACHU PICCHU

The start of our walk today is a short sharp climb bringing us to the impressive and rarely visited ruins of Pumamarca. After visiting this extensive site, we follow an ancient Inca trail along the many terraces of the Huilloc valley as we wind our way through eucalyptus forests to end our trail nearby the impressive ruins of Ollantaytambo. After lunch, we catch the late afternoon train to Machu Picchu pueblo (formerly known as Aguas Calientes) where we check into our hotel. The evening is free to explore the extensive artisan market and the many colourful bars and restaurants of Machu Picchu town. (B,L) (approx. 7km walked today)

DAY 10: MACHU PICCHU TOUR AND RETURN TO CUSCO

Coordinating with your guide as to what time you want to get up, a short bus ride takes you direct to the “Lost City of the Incas- Machu Picchu”. Once there, your guide gives you an extensive walking tour of the ruin and explains the fascinating history of the Incas to you. If time permits you may wish to explore further to the Inca Bridge, walk back up the Inca Trail to the sun gate or try the strenuous climb of Machu Picchu Mountain for an awe-inspiring Condor’s eye view of Machu Picchu. We have included the permit to climb Huayna Picchu. Some may prefer to just relax and take in the awesome location. We catch an afternoon bus to Aguas Calientes for a late lunch and transfer to the train station from where you catch the afternoon train back to the Ollantaytambo and so onto Cusco where we drop you off at the hotel. (B,L) (lots of walking today up and down the ruins, lots of stairs)

DAY 11: CUSCO

A free day in Cusco for some rest and recuperation. There is so much to see and do in Cusco whether your interest is exploring Inca ruins, visiting Colonial churches, bargain hunting in Indian markets or just relaxing over a cappuccino on a terrace overlooking the Plaza de Armas, Cusco has it all. In the evening we meet up for celebratory dinner and those with the energy can go on to explore Cusco’s excellent nightlife. (B,D).

DAY 12: CUSCO – HOME

Today, we transfer to Cusco airport in time for your internal and international flights home. Or for those with more time consider one or more of our Excellent Extensions to the Amazon Rainforest, Lake Titicaca, Arequipa and the Colca canyon, Nazca and the Ballestas islands or more adventures by bike, foot, canoe, raft or horse. Please contact us for more details. (B)
